Dear Valued Customer,

As global concern about the current Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak grows, we are continuing to monitor the impacts of the outbreak on our business. The safety of our customers, suppliers, processors and employees remain our top priority at RIBUS.

RIBUS wanted to let you know we are monitoring all suppliers and processors of key materials to alert us of any known or potential supply chain disruptions. At this time, it is business as usual. All rice used by RIBUS is 100% grown and processed in the United States. We want to avoid any disruption to the operations of our customers, and will communicate any information that may cause disruption if it becomes available.

We understand that this situation is quite dynamic, and conditions are changing rapidly. As of now, we do not foresee any immediate delays and hope to continue to serve your needs. We appreciate your support and cooperation during this challenging time, and wish you continued good health.

Best regards,

Michelle Kyle
Customer Service Manager
